A City of Neighborhoods Strives to Keep its Hometown Feel

Rockville is a city of diverse neighborhoods with safe streets, well-kept homes, vibrant parks and vital community centers. The city government recognizes the important role neighborhoods – and neighbors – play as the foundation of city. We respect and foster that role through the city's commitment to public safety, housing diversity, well-maintained infrastructure, support for high-quality education and city services that address the needs of all.

Rockville is a place one can truly and proudly call "my hometown," where community members work with the city government to maintain the intimacy and warmth that "hometown" promotes. It is a place where neighbors know and care about each other and where families can grow in safe, secure neighborhoods, and, eventually, where community members can retire and thrive. Wherever you are in life, the City of Rockville offers a service, program or other way to connect to your community.

This quality of living is reflected in some of the city's recent national rankings: Rockville has been named No. 1 on Livability.com's list of "Best Cities for Families," sixth among "Best Washington, D.C., Suburbs," seventh on Movoto.com's list of "Best Places Near Washington, D.C., for Young Professionals," and seventh on Goodcall.com's list of the best cities in the U.S. for women entrepreneurs.

This special section – offered here in "Rockville Reports" for the first time – highlights the programs, services and facilities that the City of Rockville offers to keep our neighborhoods strong, safe and vital to the community members who live, work and visit here.

Diversity in Our Neighborhoods

Rockville prides itself on its hometown appeal as a city of diverse neighborhoods.

Just how diverse are our neighborhoods? Rockville is the 14th most diverse city in America, according to WalletHub, with one-third of the city's residents born outside the United States.

"The City of Rockville is home to individuals and families from diverse backgrounds and with varied socioeconomic characteristics," a December 2016 city housing market and needs assessment reported. "The diversity of the population is one of the critical elements to creating the thriving and inclusive community of Rockville. If the city is going to be able to continue to attract and retain a diverse population, it will need to plan for a wide range of housing types that can meet future needs." Read the study at <http://bit.ly/RockvilleHousingStudy>.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, residents of Asian descent were the largest racial minority in the city as of 2010, making up about 21 percent of Rockville's population, up from about 15 percent in 2000. Rockville's 2010 Hispanic or Latino population was about 14 percent of the population. Black or African-American residents comprised about 10 percent.

Rockville's Mayor and Council continue to explore ways to make the community a more inclusive place to live and work. A town hall meeting on Feb. 9 aimed to foster dialogue about how to improve the city's efforts to welcome and engage its diverse residents.

Learn how to become part of this ongoing conversation at www.rockvillemd.gov/diversitytownhall and find articles about the recent housing study and about the city's diversity outreach efforts in this issue of "Rockville Reports."

Explore Rockville by Bicycle

Bicycling offers a fun, healthy and efficient way to explore Rockville's neighborhoods. The city is creating a safe, well-connected network for bicycling and has more than 34 miles of shared-use paths, 4 miles of bike lanes and 3 miles of roads with sharrows. The city's efforts to encourage bicycling earned it a Bicycle Friendly Community bronze-level designation from the League of American Bicyclists. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/bicycling.

IN THE CITY

The City of Rockville is committed to providing responsive, citizen-centric public service that connects its many diverse neighborhoods and residents.

Concerns and Requests

City staff responds to online inquiries on a wide range of topics – from potholes to tree trimming to property maintenance – at www.rockvillemd.gov/reportaconcern.

Police

The Rockville City Police Department is a fully accredited agency that works with the community to provide the best police protection, services, education and enforcement. The department is committed to community policing that ensures the safety and protection of homes, businesses, schools and the people who occupy them. Visit the police station in the historic post office building at 2 W. Montgomery Ave., or call 240-314-8900. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/police.

Parking

Rockville maintains its parking meters and lots, enforces parking regulations, issues parking permits for residential areas and collects parking fines. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/parking.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Refuse and Recycling

Rockville provides a comprehensive and environmentally friendly recycling and refuse program for single-family homes and most townhouses. Single-stream recycling of mixed paper, metals, clear and colored glass, and plastics allows residents to recycle many items. The city also provides special collections for household hazardous waste, electronics and bulk refuse items that do not fit into recycling and refuse carts, including metal items such as appliances and furniture. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/recycling-refuse.

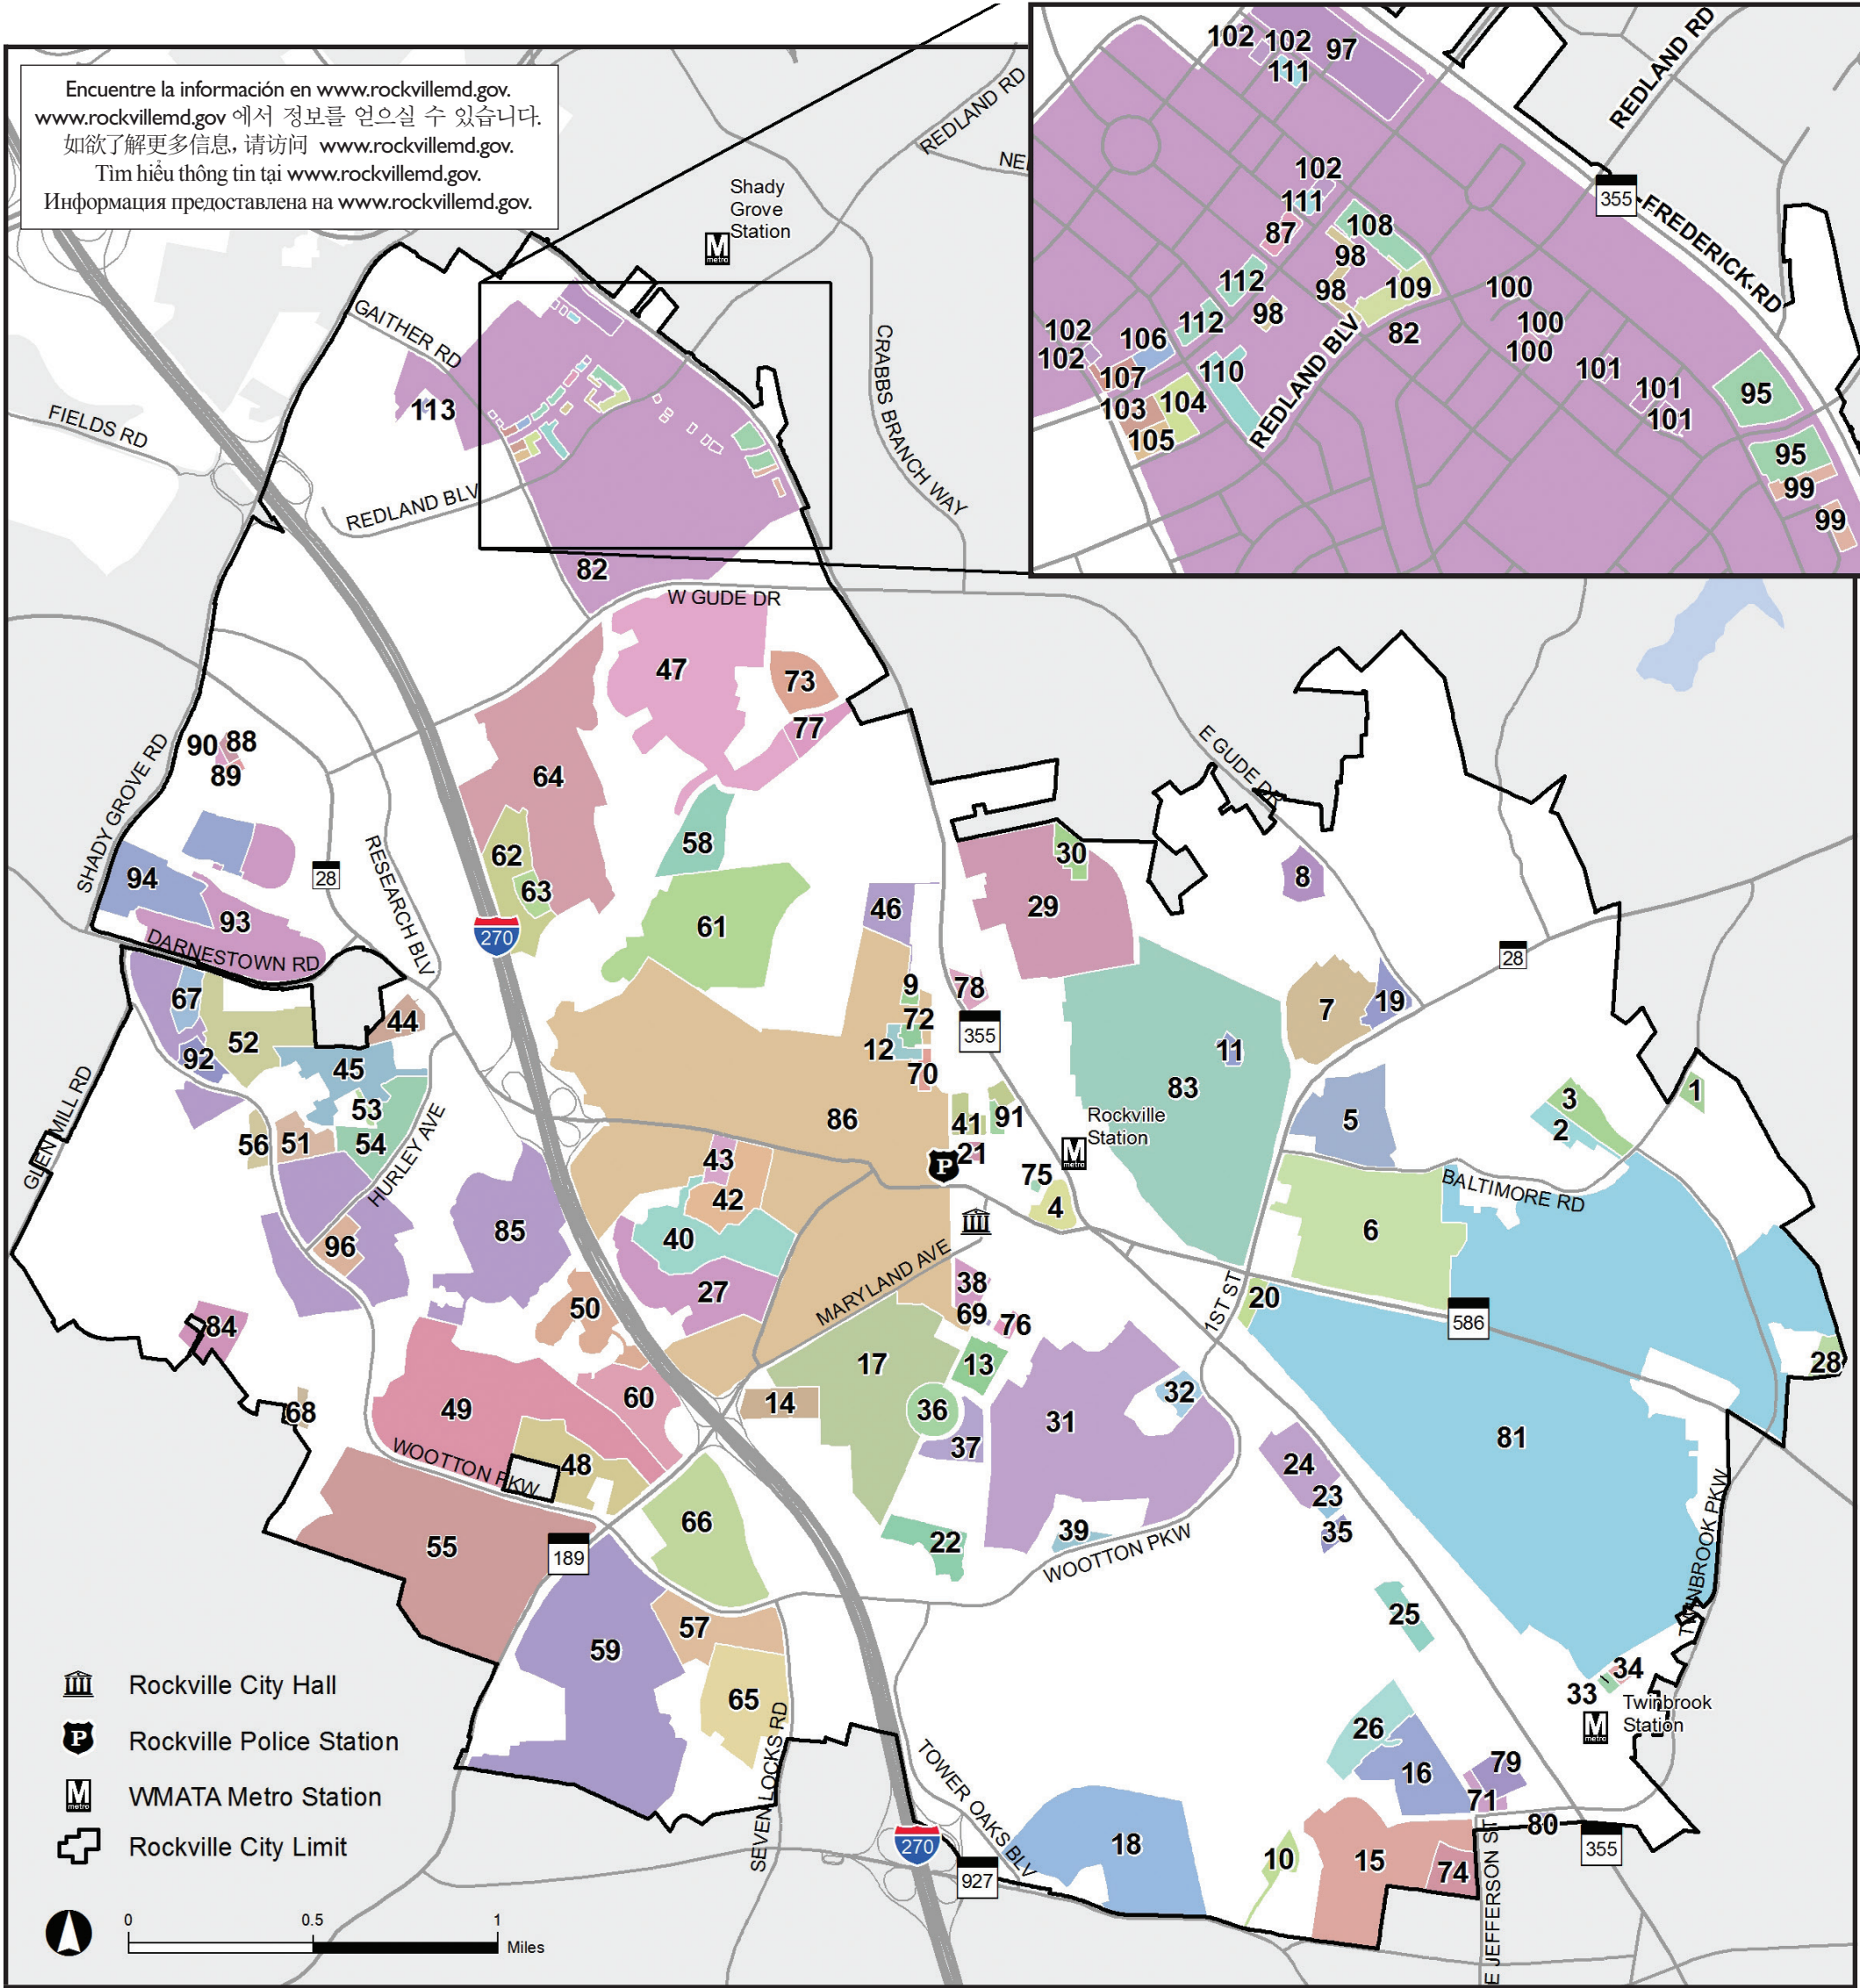

Paying Utility Bills

The city offers online bill payment for water and sewer service. Customers may also choose to receive bills by email rather than by mail. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/utilitybilling. Not every residence or business within Rockville receives water and sewer service from the city. Some are served by the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (www.wssc.com). Residents should check their utility bill to see if it is issued by the city or by WSSC, or may find their service provider by entering their address on a map at www.rockvillemd.gov/water. For billing questions, call 240-314-8420 Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

314-8567 for reporting water leaks, sewer backups and overflows, and other emergencies related to water and sewer service, or to streets. Details about water main breaks and sewer line overflows affecting more than 25 residences and/or businesses are posted at www.rockvillemd.gov/water-sewerbreaks.

Property Taxes

The city charges residents a real property tax and charges businesses a real and personal property tax. The tax rates for Fiscal Year 2017, which ends June 30, equal $0.292 per $100 of assessed value for real property and $0.805 per $100 of assessed value for personal property. More than half of the city's general fund revenue is derived from real and personal property tax. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/budget. The Maryland State Department of Assessments and Taxation is responsible for determining the assessed values for all properties in Rockville. The city's property taxes are billed on the Montgomery County consolidated tax bill in July of each year. Learn more at www.montgomerycountymd.gov/finance.

Leaf Collection Tips

The city vacuums leaves from alongside neighborhood streets each spring and fall. Collection dates are announced in "Rockville Reports" and at RockvilleReports.com. Visit www.rockville.md.gov/leafcollection for collection tips and an interactive map that allows residents to input their address to learn when leaves will be collected in their neighborhood.

Street Trees

The City Forester's Office is responsible for maintaining trees along city streets within the public right of way, in parks and around city facilities. In general, street trees are located between the curb and sidewalk. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/trees.

Sidewalks

Do you know a neighborhood that could use a sidewalk? The city's Sidewalk Prioritization Policy helps determine the order in which the city constructs sidewalks. Rockville residents may circulate a petition to have new sidewalks constructed. Learn about the policy, view a map of sidewalks prioritized for construction and find petition forms at www.rockvillemd.gov/sidewalks.

Snow Shoveling

Snow and ice removal is the responsibility of the owner, occupant or community association of the property adjacent a sidewalk, driveway or entrance. Snow and ice must be cleared within 24-72 hours of the end of a snowfall, depending on the snowfall totals (up to 3 inches = within 24 hours; 3-9 inches = within 48 hours; 10 inches or more = within 72 hours). Learn more about how Rockville responds to snow – and what property owners' and residents' responsibilities are – at www.rockvillemd.gov/winterweather.

Licenses and Permits

The city issues building, fence and other permits. Apply at www.rockvillemd.gov/isd. Marriage licenses are issued by the Montgomery County Circuit Court. Learn more at <http://bit.ly/MoCoMarriageLicense>.

Animal Regulations

Effective July 1, 2015, any dog, cat or ferret over 4 months old must be licensed and, when off premises, wear a tag and collar, unless they are microchipped. Pet license applications are available at www.rockvillemd.gov/animalcontrol.

Code Enforcement

City inspectors conduct community enhancement inspections to identify code violations, educate the community about property maintenance codes, improve overall quality of life in neighborhoods and preserve property values. Typical code violations include abandoned or junk vehicles; chipped and peeling paint; defective sheds, garages, or fences; general exterior maintenance; pest or rodent infestation; missing address numbers; missing or defective smoke detectors; overcrowding or prohibited habitation; parking on grass; tall grass and weeds in excess of 10 inches; trash accumulation; and unsanitary conditions. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/codeenforcement.

Historic Tax Credits

City, state and federal tax credits are available for properties located within designated historic districts or listed in the National Register of Historic Places. For any one project, a property owner may apply for all programs (local, state, and federal) for which they qualify. Learn more and find applications at www.rockvillemd.gov/historictaxcredits.

HELP YOUR NEIGHBORS

Rockville supports community members in need. The city's Community Services Division provides referrals to outside human service programs, monitors city-funded human service programs and delivers prevention and intervention programs and services for youth and families.

Rockville Emergency Assistance Program (REAP)

Emergency financial assistance is available for eligible city residents experiencing a financial crisis such as eviction, foreclosure or utility shut-off, or who need one-time-only prescription medication. Referrals for emergency food, clothing, financial/employment counseling and income tax assistance are also available. Call 240-314-8310 to determine eligibility. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/REAP.

Information and Referrals

City staff can help residents find financial assistance, career counseling, housing and temporary shelter, emergency food, child care, treatment for drug and alcohol abuse, health care and help with many other needs. For more information, call 240-314-8310 or visit the Community Services Division on the first floor of City Hall, 111 Maryland Ave.

Home Rehabilitation Grants

The city helps low- and moderate-income homeowners make repairs to their homes through the Single-Family Rehabilitation program. The forgivable loan program covers a portion or all of the cost, typically up to $25,000, of repairs such as roof replacement, plumbing and electrical upgrades, furnace replacement and kitchen and bathroom improvements. For more information, eligibility criteria and the application form, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/singlefamilyrehab or contact Martin Dasler, at 240-314-8208 or mdasler@rockvillemd.gov.

Community Mediation

Community mediation sessions can assist in resolving conflicts between neighbors, co-workers, landlords and tenants, businesses and customers or employers and employees. To discuss an issue that might be appropriate for mediation, call 240-314-8316 or visit www.rockvillemd.gov/communitymediation.

Senior Support Services

The Rockville Senior Center connects seniors to services such as information and assistance in English and Spanish, resource referrals, customized individual assistance, home and hospital visits from staff, emergency financial assistance and financial assistance for center memberships. The center also provides transportation, snow removal, help finding contractors for home maintenance and repairs, and education, meal, and wellness programs. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/seniorservices.

Rockville Villages

Villages are local, volunteer-led, grassroots organizations that support Rockville neighbors who choose to age-in-place. They foster social connections through activities and events and coordinate volunteer help at home using a neighbor-helping-neighbor model. Each village is unique and reflects the character, interests and needs of the community that creates it. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/rockvillages.

Snow Shoveling

Seniors 60 and older may request assistance with clearing snow. To request assistance – or to volunteer to help a neighbor in need – visit www.rockvillemd.gov/seniorsnowremoval or call 240-314-8810 or 240-314-8819.

Financial Assistance for Participation in Recreation Programs

The City of Rockville believes that everyone, regardless of income, should be able to participate in its recreation opportunities. The Recreation and Parks Department offers financial assistance programs so that everyone can play. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/recreation/financialassistance.

ROC-N Matching Grant Program

Neighborhood organizations may apply for monetary assistance for community projects and initiatives through the Rockville's Organizing Communities and Neighborhoods (ROC-N) Matching Grant Program. The program is built upon the premise that people who live and work in a neighborhood are best able to identify its needs, make improvements and devise solutions to problems. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/ROC-NGrant.

DIVERSITY IN THE CITY

Rockville is a diverse city that strives to create an inclusive place for all to live, work and visit. For a closer look at Rockville's demographics and diversity, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/trends.

Human Rights

Rockville's Human Rights Program works to ensure equal treatment, free of discrimination, for people who live in, work in or visit the city. The city's Human Rights Commission is charged with minimizing the effects of conflict and promoting appreciation of diversity within Rockville. Residents or visitors who feel that they have experienced discrimination based on age, ancestry, creed, color, disability, marital status, national origin, race, sexual orientation, gender or presence of children may file a complaint through the Human Rights Office. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/humanrights or call 240-314-8316.

Americans with Disabilities Act

The city is committed to providing access to city programs and services through the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Community members in need of a modification to assist them in attending a city program or accessing a city facility or service should fill out the online ADA Request for Modification Form at www.rockvillemd.gov/ada or contact Janet Kelly, ADA coordinator, at 240-314-8108, relay 711, TTY 240-314-8137 or jkelly@rockvillemd.gov.

Translation Services

A Language Line allows community members to receive foreign language translation when they call the city's main number at 240-314-5000. Hearing- or speech-impaired callers to the city can use relay 711 or TTY 240-314-8137. The city uses a translation service to translate some documents and materials. The city's website and RockvilleReports.com both offer Google Translate options. Using the "Select Language" bar on the right side of each webpage, users can select from 20 different languages on RockvilleReports.com and from more than 100 languages on www.rockvillemd.gov.

Asian Pacific American Task Force

The Asian Pacific American Task Force fosters communication between the Asian-American community and the city government. The task force also provides resources, educates the general public about the contributions of Asian-Americans and engages the Asian-American community (businesses and residents) in city-sponsored activities. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/apataskforce or call 240-314-8316.

LGBT Liaison

The city's LGBT liaison acts as a point of contact for the LGBT community, providing information, referral services, coordination, advice and general assistance. The liaison also helps community members address concerns about LGBT well-being, safety and rights. Contact Janet Kelly at 240-314-8316 or jkelly@rockvillemd.gov.

Celebrate Rockville

Rockville hosts special events throughout the year that bring our diverse community together, including family-friendly festivals, ceremonies honoring military veterans and celebrations of the many cultures that make up our city. Learn more at www.rockvillemd.gov/recreation/events. For fun things to do each week, visit www.rockvillemd.gov/thisweek and sign up to receive a weekly email featuring news about recreation and other city programs, arts and community events, and community meetings.

GET INVOLVED

Boards and Commissions

Community members are encouraged to lend their time and expertise to a city board or commission. Boards and commissions provide the Mayor and Council with informed public opinions, thoughts and ideas that shape the city.
